SNAPSHOTS FROM THE CLASS OF 1943

In 1943, World War II had already hit the shores of the country. With their thoughts looming toward graduation and the inevitable call to duty, the senior class treasured their college days. The following are some snapshots from the Class of 1943. Does anyone look familiar? (answers on page 16)
