

Alumni at Work

Two former Canisius students are now putting their education to work at the institution where they earned their degrees.

Valerie B. Warren '80 MBA and Timothy P. Scharf '00 are the newest additions to the College Relations Division. Warren, the new director of endowed scholarship programs, earned her MBA from Canisius. She comes to the college from AAA where she served as accounting manager for Western and Central New York. In her new position, Warren will oversee the development of scholarship gifts.

The new assistant director of alumni relations, Tim Scharf, worked as an account coordinator with Ketchum, a public relations firm in Washington, D.C., before returning to his alma mater.

Alumni Board of Directors

The Alumni Board of Directors is accepting nominations to fill six three-year terms. The Board meets monthly to develop educational, professional, social and community service programs for alumni. To submit nominations, contact Board President Laura Zaepfel '86 at zaepfel@uniland.com or the Alumni Relations Office at 1-800-801-4952. The deadline is May 31.

Career Mentoring Program

The bigger our network – the bigger your network! So why not become a member of the Alumni Career Mentoring Program? Simply fill out the card included in this issue and return it to the Alumni Relations Office. Soon, alumni will be able to search for a career mentor on-line at www.canisius.edu.
