The mission of the Office of Professional Studies is to help adult learners, non-traditional students and working professionals further their education and career opportunities. Wide-ranging and academically innovative programs are being developed to respond to the needs of today's professionals. These new areas of study are co-developed by Canisius faculty and outside partners including industry experts, professional associations, consulting organizations and businesses. The programs are provided in creative scheduling formats and education delivery methods designed to meet the needs of working professionals. Focused on academic excellence, we are committed to continual self-assessment with the goal of achieving outstanding results.

As a result of the increasing demand for well-trained and motivated Allied Health professionals, Professional Studies has developed these programs for passionate people eager to advance their careers in the rapidly expanding field of healthcare:

- Applied Nutrition
- Community and School Health
- Health and Human Performance
- Health Information Technology
- Respiratory Care

Canisius is currently accepting applications for adjunct professors in all of its Professional Studies programs. We are looking for registered dieticians, respiratory therapists, nurses, pharmacists, health educators, exercise specialists, researchers and other health professionals who want to bring their enthusiasm for their field of expertise into the educational arena.

Responsibilities:

- Develop and manage syllabus materials. Responsible for selecting and compiling tests, assignments and/or online discussion exercises that permit measurement of performance relative to standardized learning objectives.
- Facilitate Class Instruction. Responsible for teaching the assigned class in accordance with learning goals and objectives specified by the college and program director.
- Evaluate Student Performance. Administer evaluations of student performance based on course deliverables and course rubrics. This information is to be posted in Compliance Assist at the end of each academic term.
- Respond Promptly to Grade Determination. Submit grades for any assignments, discussion board exercises, and exams and course completion.
- Advise master’s projects/theses. Most of our students in Professional Studies complete a master’s project (literature review) or a master’s thesis as their capstone experience. Qualified adjuncts are needed to guide and direct students through their research experience.

Qualifications:

- MS or PhD in specific area is required.
- 3 to 5 years of experience in field.
- Research and publication is desired.
- Prior successful online college teaching experience is considered an asset.
- Demonstrated technological knowledge and abilities to teach using an online delivery system will be considered an asset.
