

$100,000 BEQUEATHED TO COLLEGE IN LEGACY

A gift expected to approximate $100,000 to Canisius College for equipping a laboratory was disclosed Thursday, January 7, in the will of Miss Marian A. Horan, of 324 Pennsylvania Street, who died November 19.

Miss Horan directs that the sum become the property of the college and a laboratory equipped in honor of the Patrick Horan family. If the college does not need a laboratory, or if one has already been provided for, the will further stipulates that the college has the right to "build, furnish or equip some other section or department." However, in such a department or section, a plate, as a memorial to the Horan family, must be displayed.

The final amount of the bequest will depend on the value of considerable real estate owned by the deceased. It is expected, however, that approximately the entire sum stipulated will eventually be realized from the assets available after payment of the specific bequests.

When questioned concerning the uses to which the college will put the bequest, the Dean answered that no plans have been made as yet, and, most likely, will not be made for quite some time.
